

TWO MEN ARRESTED SUSPECTED OF DYNAMITING Home of "Big Jim" Gallagher

TAUNT OVER A WOMAN ENDS IN MURDER

Two Angry Men Vowing Vengeance Disappear in the Darkness—One Found Dead, Other Is Gone.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—A lively dispute, caused by jealousy resulting in a quarrel during which taunting words were hurled back and forth, had its outcome in the murder of Henry Baker, an ex-soldier, 63 years old, in the darkness of the refuge camp at Pt. Lobos Square late last night.

The tragedy was not discovered until 5:30 this morning when Mrs. Julia Smith, who lives at 14 North Third street in the square, stumbled upon Baker's body while searching for kindling wood. The trouble, which has been brewing for some time, had its termination last evening when Mrs. Liddy Rourke of 4 N. First street, invited Mrs. Mary McNulty of 1411 Stockton street and Louis Columbo to spend the evening with her.

Jealous of Woman.

Henry Baker, who also lived in the refuge camp, his dress being 15 N. Second street, went over to Mrs. Rourke's house and was much angered at seeing Columbo there. Baker had been paying the McNulty woman a great deal of attention of late and she was extremely jealous of her. Mrs. McNulty is a pretty young woman 24 years of age, and during the evening, it is claimed, Columbo made a great deal of her.

This angered Baker and he abused both the women and Columbo, taunting the latter and calling him names. At length, daring his rival to come out and fight, Baker left the house. Columbo, however, refused to follow at first, but when Baker called to him, "You infernal dog, come out of that," Columbo picked up a bottle of wine and left the house.

No one saw the struggle that ensued, but it is supposed that Baker, armed with a heavy axe handle, went at his rival, Columbo used his bottle and then the neighborhood was aroused by hearing four shots. The two women in the house covered to gether or the floor, and so forth, and so when Policeman Hughes, who heard the shots, made an investigation, he could discover nothing.

Had Been Drinking.

This morning when Mrs. Smith found the body she notified the North End police station and Policemen McDonald and Casey were detailed on the case. The coroner was notified and when Deputy Riley arrived he questioned Mrs. Rourke very closely. The woman, although admitting that considerable drinking had been going on, refused to make an admission and denied knowing the whereabouts of Mrs. McNulty. While she was talking, however, Riley saw a door leading to an inner room tremble slightly, and pushing it open, found Mrs. McNulty shivering with fear, and hiding behind the door.

She admitted that Columbo had said before he left the house "I'll go out and get him." Shortly after that the shots were heard.

Was Shot Twice.

Only two of the bullets struck Baker one of them wounding him through the chest, causing almost instant death, while the other struck his watch and glanced off, tearing the flesh in his right side slightly. His face and scalp were badly bruised, showing where the bottle had been broken over his head. It is thought the shooting took place at about 10:30 p. m. as the body was found about 125 feet from the refuge cottage.

Acting Captain of Detectives Ryan has detailed Daily and Lambert and Policemen McDonald on the case and it is thought Columbo will be apprehended during the day.

SAYS THE PEOPLE WANTED TROLLEYS

Former Clerk Keane Testifies in the Ford Trial.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—In the Ford trial today the prosecution, by the introduction of George B. Keane, Charles Haggerty and banker Cole, formerly cashier of the mint in this city, as witnesses, showed that they had called all the members of the board of Supervisors whom they intend to introduce into the case. They have purposely omitted three of the members of that organization, namely ex-Supervisors Duffy, Rea and Coffey. Duffy and Coffey have been indicted because of their failure to give testimony desired by the wielders of the big stick—but Rea has never been called to testify in any of the Ford trials.

Witness Rea.

Rea has been attracting attention to himself as the only member of the ex-board who has considered the advisability of surrendering his badge, the retention of which by the others, was a condition precedent to their consenting to confess their perjury for the purpose of securing immunity from the prosecution.

Frank A. Leach, formerly a resident of Oakland and superintendent of the mint in this city, but now a director of the United States Mint, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., was to have been a witness this morning for the prosecution, but was unable to be present. At the suggestion of Stanley Moore, it was stipulated that the testimony of Mr. Leach at the last trial could be read to the jury.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—At the opening of the trial of Tires L. Ford on the charge of bribery, Assistant District Attorney Heney paid a momentary visit to Assistant District Attorney O'Garra, who is conducting the case. Heney was attired in an automobile stormcoat, and with a smile thrust into O'Garra's hand a bunch of manifold paper, evidently the transcript of some witness' testimony.

And then he withdrew from the apartment. O'Garra looked at the bunch of paper and immediately rushed after Heney, who, by this time, had disappeared in Judge Dooling's court, where he is conducting the Ruff trial. It was apparent that the transcript in question was not the one which O'Garra had sought.

When O'Garra returned to the court, Judge Lawlor ordered the calling of the first witness.

Neither Detective Burns nor Rudolph Spreckels designed to favor the representative of the prosecution with their presence. General Ford was on hand ten minutes before Judge Lawlor ascended the bench, and after his entrance he was joined by Attorneys A. A. Moore, Stanley Moore, Lewis F. Byington and W. M. Abbott. Some surprise was occasioned by O'Garra calling as a witness for the

GIRL FIGHTS MAN WHO ATTACKS HER

Sister Runs for Help, While Young Woman Struggles With Well-Dressed Stranger in the Dark.

MELROSE, April 24.—Miss Margaret Ruffer, aged 18, and her sister, Miss Anna Ruffer, aged 15, had a most terrifying experience last night on their arrival from San Francisco on the 8 o'clock train. The young women are employed in San Francisco, Miss Anna being a bookkeeper. As the young women left the Melrose station they noticed a man, well dressed and carrying an overcoat under his arm, who seemed to be following them. They hurried on their way, but the man overtook them and, catching Miss Anna by the arm, attempted to drag her to one side. Margaret screamed and ran back toward the station to summon aid. Meanwhile the mysterious stranger had seized hold of Anna and attempted to drag her away to the side of the road.

Tries to Choke Her.

The young woman fought desperately and the man, cursing her, grabbed her by the throat and placed his other hand across her mouth, attempting to choke off her screams.

The girl continued her struggles and, breaking away from her assailant, ran up the steps of the house of E. H. Cunningham, nearby. She rang the door bell frantically and, fortunately, the door was opened by Cunningham who, in response to the girl's excited story, darted after her assailant, who had meantime taken to his heels and soon disappeared in the darkness.

Taken to Home.

Shortly after this Miss Anna's sister reached the Cunningham house, after which Cunningham took the girls to their home on Central avenue, near the Alvarado tract.

LARGE TAX IS PAID

Widow of James Moffitt Makes Settlement of $26,600 Directly Following the Supreme Court Ruling.

One of the largest amounts that has ever been paid into the county treasury as an inheritance tax was paid yesterday afternoon by the widow of James Moffitt, the amount being $26,600.96. The estate is valued at $988,319. The tax goes into the State revenue fund, which is apportioned among the schools of the various counties of the State.

The money was paid after a decision had been handed down by the Supreme Court, ruling that the tax would have to be paid the State. Mrs. Moffitt refused to pay the inheritance tax and County Treasurer Kelley commenced an action in behalf of the State. The Supreme Court ruled in his favor and the tax was immediately paid, a check having been received at the county treasurer's office yesterday afternoon.

Other heirs of the Moffitt estate paid their inheritance taxes, which amounted to $21,462, before the decision was handed down. Mrs. Moffitt was a member of the firm of Blake, Moffitt & Towne, and owned large tracts of land in this city, the largest being situated on Broadway at Twenty-second street.

United Railroads Proffers Its Help

W. M. Abbott, representing the United Railroads Company of San Francisco, made an official call on District Attorney Brown last evening, proffering any assistance of any sort that the corporation could render Alameda county in running down and punishing the persons who dynamited the home of "Big Jim" Gallagher on Wednesday night.

"Mr. Abbott's call was very brief," said District Attorney Brown this morning. "He offered my office any assistance or any information that the United Railroads Company could furnish to aid in unearthing and punishing the persons who were guilty of the dynamite outrage in this city the other night. I thanked him for his offer and told him that so far as my office was concerned I felt that the police of Oakland were doing all that was possible in the case. In fact, I am not taking any steps in this matter, leaving it entirely to the police department of the city."

DRUG CLERK GAVE THE FIRST CLUE

Notified Detectives of Man's Strange Request for Acid and His Great Knowledge of Explosives.

The first arrest of suspects in the dynamiting of the home of Ex-Supervisor Gallagher in Nineteenth avenue were made last night when J. Kerr, a horse-shoer and a companion whose name the officials refuse to divulge were caught in the police drag net which was thrown out immediately after the explosion which wrecked the house and threatened the lives of a number of men, women and children. Kerr and his companion are held in close confinement by the detectives and are being questioned to what they may know concerning the sensational crime.

Both Men Acted Suspiciously

The fact that the suspicious acts of the men were committed yesterday, the day after the explosion, has caused the police to believe that they are working on a slender clue so far as the connection of the arrested men with the case is concerned, but that every possible bit of evidence in the case is to be sifted to the bottom is evidenced by the arrest of the two men now in the tanks at the city prison, with their names on the detainee or secret book.

Tried to Buy Acid in Drug Store

Late yesterday afternoon Kerr entered Osgood Bros' drug store at Seventh street and Broadway

"Was Premeditated Crime" Say the Police and asked for a bottle of nitric acid, saying that he wished the deadly fluid to be used in eating the rust from a pair of dumbbells. The request seemed peculiar to the clerk, as it did not appear to him that a man of Kerr's stature and strength would be likely to be one who made a practice of using dumbbells.

Drug Clerks Told The Detectives.

It was a later statement made by Kerr, however, which caused the clerk in the drug store to notify his employer of the case, the employer in turn telephoning his suspicions into police headquarters. Detective McSorley hurried to the drug store in the police automobile and there Kerr was pointed out to him. Kerr was at that time outside of the drug store whispering in a suspicious manner to the companion, who was later arrested with Kerr.

Detective McSorley, upon entering the store, was surrounded by excited clerks, who informed him that after Kerr had asked for the nitric acid which was refused, he then made a request for some muriatic acid. When this was also refused him he is alleged to have said to the clerk who was waiting on him:

"Well, I guess you would not care to mix those acids with glycerine anyhow."

Showed Knowledge In Mixing Explosives

The clerk, realizing that the addition of glycerine in given quantities to nitric and muriatic acid makes one of the most powerful explosives known to science, became at once suspicious of the man and his unusual request and made known his suspicions at once.

After Kerr had left the store he was watched while Detective McSorley was on the way to the store. McSorley was sufficiently interested in the case to cause the arrest of the men. It is only intimated by the police that the men had any knowledge of the dynamiting of Supervisor Gallagher's home, but the request for materials the same as were probably used in the commission of the act led the police to the opinion that the past acts of Kerr and his companion were well worthy of investigation.

The police refuse to discuss the arrest of the men, but it is admitted that they will be held in close confinement until such time as their past records and acts have been thoroughly investigated.

Opinions Divided As to Identity

That there is a widely divided opinion in the minds of Oakland's officials as to the identity of the person or persons who perpetrated the deed is evidenced by a statement made this morning by Prosecuting Attorney Ezra Decoto of Police Court No. 1. After listening to the statements of the police and reading of their conclusions in the case, to the effect that in their opinion no wild-eyed crank or purposeless, motiveless, murderers laid and fired the explosive, Decoto said this morning that in his opinion the act was one of a mentally weakened individual whose mind had been inflamed to violence possibly through reading of recent sensational happenings or who may have, in his insane desire for possible applause at the hands of lovers of sensation, attempted the life of "Big Jim" Gallagher.

"In my opinion," said Decoto, "the act was committed by a person mentally irresponsible. There are men of weak minds who could have committed the act with the thought that the deed might be rewarded. It would not seem to me that even the most desperate criminal would attempt the life of any one person where that attempt endangered the lives of a number of other people."

Captain Petersen Discards Gas Theory

Captain of Detectives Petersen this morning scoffed at the idea that the explosion might have been the result of the explosion of illuminating or sewer gas which had collected in the basement or other parts of the Nineteenth-avenue residence.

"In the first place," said Captain Petersen this morning, "the explosion happened early in the evening, at a time when the occupants of the place would readily detect the odor of gas, providing it was accumulating in sufficient quantities to result in such a terrific explosion as that which wrecked the home of the Schencks and left the house a tottering ruin. In the second place, a large accumulation of gas in the basement of the house was impossible as there were many openings in the basement through which the gas would have escaped. The gaspipes were all intact, an investigation showing that there was no leakage. There were no lights carried about which would have ignited the gas in the place, even if the gas had escaped and accumulated."

Believes It Was a Premeditated Crime

"I have given it as my opinion that the dynamiting was a premeditated crime, well worked out in all its details before the actual occurrence. It is on this theory that we are working at present. I have been informed that there are a number of police officials working on the case other than the members of the Oakland department, but so far I have not been offered assistance by any outside parties. We have not asked for aid in the case. I have not even discussed the case with Heney, Sprackels, Burns or others who I have been told were in Oakland. That they were in Oakland is only hearsay so far as I am concerned. Every possible clue is being run down. Opinions in the case are widely divided, but this will not deter us from working on the lines that the crime was premeditated and committed by a person who had gone into the work coolly, collected and with but one purpose in view."

Delving in Ruins For a Chance Clew

"Yesterday Detective Hodgkins and myself were at the scene of the explosion delving in the ruins for any possible clew. We tore down the chimney piece by piece, which was threatening to topple over at any moment, and dug around beneath the front portion of the house where the explosive was fired. It is probable that the explosion was caused by an infernal machine made up of either nitro-glycerine or gun cotton. The absence of even a shred of fuse leads me to the opinion that dynamite was not used. The infernal machine, which was probably set off by a time device, was, in my opinion, dropped in the folds of a silk umbrella which had been left standing at the front entrance of the house. It would not have been detected there even had a person stepped into the entrance of the house, as the clockwork in the infernal machine was winding along on its deadly way."

Infernal Machine Set Off by Acid

"We found some shreds of a silk umbrella covering, pieces of a silk handkerchief in which the whole deadly affair may have been wrapped, and some scorched bits of paper. It is probable that no fuse was used and that the explosive was set off by acid being poured over the paper, which ignited and in turn ignited the explosive compound. That the explosive was set off in the entrance of the house goes without saying. Everything points conclusively to this fact."

"If Supervisor Gallagher has his suspicions as to this identity of the per-

MISS ANITA SCHENCK, WHO WAS AN INMATE OF THE DYNAMITED GALLAGHER RESIDENCE.

Miss Anita Schenck, Who Was in Dynamited House, Showed Great Coolness

Miss Anita Schenck, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. H. Schenck, is recovering from the shock of the explosion which occurred Wednesday night at their home in East Oakland. Miss Schenck sustained no injuries from the dynamiting, but was stunned for a time being. The other members of the family were unconscious and sustained several bruises which were not serious.

Miss Anita Schenck was the first in the family to discern that there was an explosion, though somewhat dazed herself she endeavored to calm those about her. Her presence of mind was remarkable.

Anita Schenck was just entering the dining room through a door from the kitchen when the explosion occurred and was thrown across the room and down to the floor against a stove.

Miss Schenck returned home at 7 o'clock, half an hour before the explosion took place. The charred remnants of Miss Schenck's umbrella were found in the wreckage of the vestibule.

GARRET M'ENERNEY DENIES SILLY STORY ABOUT PLOT

Fake Report Without Any Foundation

SANTA ROSA, April 24.—Attorney Garret W. McEnerney, who is here in connection with the Wominger will contest, when informed of the reported assassination plot of the higher-ups a month ago, in which James Gallagher and Fremont Older were to have been the victims, ridiculed the story. He was shown the published reports in which he was quoted as having said that he had heard of the plot and had declared very emphatically that if anyone was hurt he would withdraw from the case at once. It was reported also that he had said that they were made to consider such methods.

The attorney said: "I have never heard of such a plot, and therefore could not have discussed it with anyone. How any such article could have been manufactured is beyond understanding, unless someone was having a pipe dream."

son or persons who committed the act, he has not informed me of such suspicions. We all have suspicions but the clews to bolster up our suspicions are few and shadowy. We are following up every available clew and are looking closely into the report that two men were seen haunting the vicinity of the Schenck home with a mysterious package a few minutes before the explosion occurred. All such occurrences have a tendency to cause suspicion at such times. We may be working at cross-purposes with the views of others, but whoever the guilty party is, provided he can be detected, will be taken by us at the first opportunity."

Debris Will Be Put Under Microscope

This morning the pieces of cloth, paper and the front lock of the house, which had been bent double by the force of the explosion, and which were picked up by Captain Petersen yesterday, were turned over to Dr. E. J. Rice for microscopic examination to determine if possible the exact nature of the explosive used. In the opinion of Dr. Rice the explosive was nitro-glycerine and the pieces of black goods presumed to be portions of an umbrella covering are in fact nothing but the remnants of a black cotton sock which may have been used as wedding in the infernal machine.

Well Understood Use of Explosive

"Although I have not put the material under the microscope as yet, I am firmly of the opinion that the explosive was nitro-glycerine, a high explosive which leaves but little residue. The nitro-glycerine may have been poured on cotton which would make the explosive generally known as gun cotton. Whoever used the explosive knew that the house was not blown into splinters does not detract from his knowledge, as the heavy jolts in the front of the house prevented utter destruction. The nitro-glycerine was probably set off with a fulminate cap as nitro-glycerine needs concussion to start it going."

DR. GUY BROWN, GUEST AT W. SCHENCK'S HOME AT TIME OF EXPLOSION.

CLEARING WRECKAGE OF HOME

Schenck Family Are Moving Their Personal Effects From the Ruins of Dynamited Residence.

W. H. H. Schenck and his son were busy today in moving their personal belongings from the wrecked house, the appearance of which beggars description. Most of the furniture in the place was destroyed as was the glassware and such articles and the books in the library were badly damaged, as was the piano in the sitting room. The entire front of the house is torn away and is the force of the explosion, tended up wards, bed clothing and carpets were carried through the roof and are now hanging in shreds from the slung.

According to the detectives on the case, the lives of Schenck and the members of his family were saved by the fact that they were protected from the force of the explosion by a heavy brick chimney in the corner of the dining room. Schenck's face is scarred as the result of the flying glass and his wife and other members of the family are still in a highly nervous condition as a result of the occurrence.

POLICE ARE AIDED BY A DRUG CLERK

Man Seeks to Buy Acids; Salesman Tells of 'Suspicious'

"The peculiar manner of the man Kerr was sufficient to arouse the suspicion of the clerk," said Mr. Osgood this morning, "and when the circumstances of the case were related to Detective McSorley he agreed with us that the case was one worthy of his attention. The fact that the house was not completely blown down and the desire of the dynamiter carried out, might lead one to the opinion that another attempt might be made to finish the work."

"Kerr said he was a horse-shoer and wanted the acid to brighten up some dumb-bells. This request seemed all right, but the acid could not be sold him under the laws governing the sale of poisons. When he then asked for muriatic acid and said he thought the clerk would not care to mix the acids with glycerine, the clerk grasped at the conclusion that the man might wish to manufacture a high explosive and made known his suspicions to me. Just what will be the result of the arrests remains to be seen."

NO DEFINITE CLEW THUS FAR OBTAINED

Detective Hodgkins is seeking in the wreckage for bits of Evidence.

Detective Hodgkins was delving about in the ruins all morning in the hope of finding some clue as to the material used in the infernal machine. Owing to the fact that not a vestige of fuse can be found it is believed that nitro-glycerine and not dynamite, as was at first presumed, was used by the perpetrator of the deed. None of the San Francisco officials were at police headquarters today and the case is now in the sole charge, so far as the Oakland territory is concerned, of Captain Petersen and his detectives. Every possible clue will be run down in the hope of obtaining some clue, but it is admitted by the officials that up to this time they have no definite evidence on which to base even a suspicion.

prosecution George B. Keane, who at the time of the passage of the trolley franchise was clerk of the Board of Supervisors. This is the first time Keane has been called as a witness in any of the trials in which General Ford has appeared as defendant.

Sharply Questioned.

O'Garra's questions were propounded with a sharpness which indicated that the witness was not considered persona grata to the prosecution. Keane identified the trolley ordinance which was introduced at a meeting of the Board of Supervisors. He was asked who it was who had left the ordinance with the board. He replied that he did not know. He was asked what the best of his recollection on the matter was, and he related that it was that the instrument had been left with the board by Abraham Ruef. All the questions propounded by the assistant district attorney were objected to by Stanley Moore for the defense.

The Trolley Franchise.

Keane denied he had any conversation with Ruef regarding the trolley franchise, save as to the necessity of the introduction of the trolley system of street cars for the purpose of enabling the up-building of the city.

He also denied that he had made any inquiry for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the trolley ordinance, introduced in the board of supervisors, was the ordinance wanted by the United Railroads. He knew both Ford and Abbott, but did not see either of them or any representative of the United Railroads in the office of the clerk of the board of supervisors from April 20 to May 14, 1906.

People Wanted It.

On cross examination Stanley Moore asked:

"Do you remember on one occasion when the trolley franchise was up for consideration before the board that there were a great many people present?"

"Yes, there were a great many people present."

"Do you remember how the trolley franchise was greeted by the people?"

"Yes."

"In what manner was it greeted?"

"By a demonstration of applause."

Keane said that at that period he had very little time to pay attention to those who were in the lobby because he had a great many things to attend to.

Ruef's Office Boy Called.

Charles Haggerty, office boy and clerk for Abraham Ruef, was called by the prosecution. He had held the position since January 4, 1905.

O'Garra propounded many questions to young Haggerty, but nothing material was disclosed.

The cross-examination of the young man by Stanley Moore brought out the fact that complaint had been made to Ruef that the witness was in the employ of Burns.

"When was it?" asked Moore, "that Ruef was taken in charge by the effort?"

"March 8, 1906," was the answer.

"Were you ever an employee of William J. Burns?"

"No, sir; I have been accused of being in his employ."

"You have never been in his employ?"

"No; I have never been in the employ of any person since I was in the employ of Ruef."

Gum-Shoe Burns Complained.

"You say complaint was made that you were in Burns' employ?"

"Yes, Burns used to complain to Ruef that he had seen me talking to this man and that man, and that he was the manager of the complaint against Myrtle-Cert. We couldn't talk to any person that some person would not complain to Burns about it and Burns would bring it to Ruef. Some people in the employ of one of the corporations wrote to Ruef that I was in the employ of Burns, but Mr. Ruef wrote to them and told them he did not believe them."

Former Cashier Cole of the United States Mint in this city, now engaged in the banking business here, told of the withdrawal of the United Railroads from that institution after the fire.

The Testimony of Leach.

Before concluding the examination of Cole, O'Garra announced that a witness whom he desired to have was F. A. Leach, a director of the United States Mint, now a resident of Washington, D. C., but who at the time the United Railroads' money was drawn from the mint in this city was the manager of that institution. O'Garra said Mr. Leach could not be got here in time to testify.

Stanley Moore said that the defense would be willing to allow the testimony given by Mr. Leach at the last trial to be read to this jury.

O'Garra said he was willing to agree to a stipulation to that effect.

Moore said he was willing to go further and have the testimony of F. A. Leach, but also that of other witnesses read for the purpose of saving a great deal of time, which would otherwise be wasted in the examination.

O'Garra, however, was unwilling to stipulate with respect to the testimony of Leach.

A. A. Moore said that reference to the Leach testimony recalled a scene several months ago before when Patrick Calhoun was making strenuous efforts to be allowed to go to trial. That trial, the attorney said, was to have taken place months ago.

Heney's Bluff Was Called.

"But," said Attorney Moore, "it was switched by Heney for the prosecution and the Ford trial was substituted. One of the reasons advanced by Heney for side-tracking the Calhoun trial was that the prosecution could not get Leach here to testify in time for the Calhoun case. We got the Calhoun case, but we can't get Leach. We can't get Calhoun," said Heney, "without Leach, and we can't try Ford. I told Heney that he would need Leach as much for the trial of Ford as he did for the trial of Calhoun, and offered to get Heney a hut, but Heney would not take up the bet."

Stanley Moore cross-examined Cole and elicited the information that all the transactions regarding the removal of the money of the United Railroads from the mint took place in broad daylight, that no attempt at concealment was made in connection with any of them, and that all of the deals were entered in the books of the mint which were public records.

E. D. Hawkins, bookkeeper in the mint, was called by O'Garra to show that there were $500 bills in many of the packages of money paid to the United Railroads, but the witness said he did not think that was the case. To the best of his recollection there were more $20 in the bundle than those of any other denomination, but there were more bills of $100.

GUMSHOE BURNS ACCUSED OF CORRUPTING WITNESS

Damaging Testimony Given Against the Detective in the Land Cases at Washington.

There has been much speculation as to why "Gumshoe" Burns hurried to Washington. The secret is out. Burns is accused in the land case trials of infamous conduct. A witness testified that Burns instructed him to demand money from Benson instead of Benson offering to bribe him.

The real story is told in the following dispatch:
WASHINGTON, April 24.—The cross-examination of Woodford D. Harlan, former a clerk in the General Land Office, was the feature today in the Hyde-Benson-Diamond-Schneider land fraud trial. J. C. Campbell of San Francisco, attorney for Benson, drew from the government's witness the fact that he often told Benson falsehoods in order to secure evidence for the government. Harlan admitted that under the instructions of Secret Service Agent Burns he practically demanded money from Benson instead of Benson offering to bribe him. William E. Vail, a former employee of the land office, who was on the stand yesterday, was recalled today for cross-examination.

Harlan testified yesterday that he agreed with Benson to push the land sections through, and for 15 cents an acre. Harlan said that he received a letter containing $100. He thought he gave Vail part of it. Subsequently he received another letter containing $100, and part of this, he said, was handed over to Vail.

Harlan testified that he sent Benson maps of land in California with the lines of the proposed forest reserves clearly marked. For this work Harlan received $1000. On another occasion Harlan wrote Benson that he had information which would be worth $500. This "tip" was that the Secretary and Attorney General of the Interior Department and the Commissioner of the General Land Office had agreed to an extension of the boundaries of the forest reserves in the California hills. Benson came back with a reply that Harlan was "too slow" and that he had received that "tip" previously. Benson, however, showed his "good faith" by giving Harlan $250. Harlan told of receiving other money from Benson, notably three letters, each containing a $100 bill.

STOOD BUT 10 FEET FROM EXPLODING BOMB

Dr. Guy Brown Stunned by Force of Explosion at Schenck Residence.

Dr. Guy Brown, a dentist of this city, was present in the Schenck residence in East Oakland when it was dynamited Wednesday night. He had met Mr. Schenck on the street and was asked to dine with him, awaiting at the home about 8:30 in the evening.

Dr. Brown's back was toward the folding doors, and when the explosion occurred his back received a jar from the doors.

He was stunned, but soon recovered. Dr. Brown declares it wonderful that any in the house escaped alive.

PUBLIC OPINION MORE HUMANE, HE DECLARES

Secretary Root Delivers Address to Law Society.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The second annual meeting of the American Society of International Law was begun at the New Willard Hotel here today. The feature of the session today was the annual address of the Secretary of State, Elihu Root, president of the society, in which he declared that the world was being governed by public opinion and that public opinion was becoming more humane and less war-like. He said in part:

Stronger Than Law.

Where it happens that the law and public opinion point different ways the latter is invariably the stronger. The force of law is in the public opinion which prescribes it. Conformity to the standard of business integrity, which obtains in the community is necessary to success. Social esteem and leading power and high place in the professions, in public office, in all associated enterprises, depend upon conformity to the standards of conduct in the community. Loss of these is the most terrible penalty society can inflict.

"There is no civilized country now which is not sensitive to this general opinion, nor that is willing to subject itself to the discredit of standing brutally on its power to deny to other countries the benefit of recognized rules of right conduct. The deference shown to this international public opinion is in due proportion to a nation's greatness and advance in civilization."

THIS PLOT OF 'GUM SHOE' BURNS WENT ALL AWRY

Alleged Bomb Maker Got Cold Feet

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—Some little time ago Detective Tom Murphy and George Mulcahey arrested a man named Wilhelm on suspicion that he was a bomb maker. He was held in detainee for several days and was then released. The peculiar circumstances surrounding the arrest are of interest in connection with the blowing up of the Gallagher residence in Oakland.

Says Burns' Men Employed Him.

It is stated that Wilhelm made a sworn statement that two of Gumburns' Burns had employed him in his professional capacity as an expert bomb maker to make a bomb for a demonstration against Judge Lawlor, and so turn public favor toward the prosecution.

Wilhelm, who is said to come from Emeryville, was arrested on the waterfront as he was getting off a boat. Several bombs were found on his person and submitted to Frank T. Green, city chemist.

When the bombs were inspected they were found to be made of bogus material and not explosive. As soon as this fact became known he was released.

Calhoun's Statement.

Concerning this Wilhelm affair, Patrick Calhoun makes the following statements:

"Some four or five weeks ago we heard that a man had been arrested and was being held in detainee in the city prison, and that the name of the United Railroads was in some way mixed up in the case. We investigated and found that the man's name was Wilhelm, employed in some place in Emeryville. We found that he had been arrested at the ferry at the instigation of Burns. Wilhelm's story was that he had been approached by a man who said he wanted bombs made for the United Railroads. Wilhelm, according to his story, went to see Burns, and Burns, he avers, told him to go ahead and make the bombs.

The Burns Detectives.

"It seems that Wilhelm was approached by the man who knew him to be an expert in the use of dynamite. According to Wilhelm, his heart failed him, and instead of putting dynamite in the bomb he used some harmless substance. Then, he says, he was arrested at the instigation of Burns by two detectives. They found the bombs on him, but they were filled with soap or some harmless substance."

"If developed later that the man who asked Wilhelm to make the bombs was a Burns detective, it would thus appear that Burns had intended to entrap Wilhelm with the dynamite bombs and then make it appear that the United Railroads was behind the plot."

WOULD AVOID DUTY ON THE RUEF JURY

Talesmen Make All Sorts of Excuses

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—Excuses were the order of the day in Judge Dooling's court today when the new venire which had been summoned yesterday, for the case of Abraham Ruef, on trial in the Parkside really deal, was called. When more than fifteen talesmen had been excused for various reasons, some of them presenting doctors' certificates, others stating that their business would suffer by their absence, and more yet with numerous other reasons, Judge Dooling firmly declined to hear any more excuses.

No More Excuses.

"Have the talesmen take their seats," said the court, "whenever they get up to speak to me I have to let them go."

In this manner, against their earnest protests and their requests to speak to the judge, Peter Boragin, a liquor dealer of 1340 Union street and Morris Ballein, a drygoods clerk, were summoned to the box.

Boragin caused a great deal of merriment among the spectators by his answers to the questions put to him by Special Prosecutor Heney, who alone represented the district attorney's office. Although speaking in broken English, he was very voluble in his replies and stated that he never read the papers and never took any interest in anything that did not personally concern him. He said this is the first time he had ever been in a

He had a decided opinion in this case and was immediately excused.

S. N. WOOD & CO.

Washington at Eleventh Street

On Bombs and Boomerangs.

Taking the cue from Francis J. Heney, the San Francisco Bulletin charges up the attempt to assassinate James L. Gallagher to the United Railroads. Rudolph Spreckels and the Call echo the same terrible accusation.

Heney proves its truth by alleging that he warned Gallagher months ago. The Bulletin says Fremont Older was acquainted (by an unnamed informant) weeks ago that a number of horrid crimes were plotted by the United Railroads. Older says he was to be picked off at long range by an expert marksman. He endeavors to fortify this statement by saying Garret W. McEnerney became cognizant of the murderous scheme and threatened to withdraw as attorney for the street railway corporation if it was carried out.

Mr. McEnerney indignantly denounces the whole story as an infamous falsehood unworthy of credence, as it undoubtedly is. Nevertheless, Older and Heney continue to prove by themselves that their charges are true. No other proof is vouchsafed. None is attempted.

Spreckels, Heney, B. P. Oliver, foreman of the Spreckels grand jury, and a corps of Burns detectives rushed to the wreck of the Gallagher homestead bent upon making use of the explosion in a theatrical way to inflame popular sentiment against Turey L. Ford. Each and every one points at the United Railroads. Had the explosion been specially provided for the purpose it could not have more promptly been utilized as an asset for the Spreckels prosecution as a justification for their own misdeeds, and to bolster up their fallen reputations.

Every person is at liberty to theorize as to the perpetrators of this mysterious crime, and the motives which prompted it, but every theory must be subjected to the crucible of analysis. If we are to conclude that the men in control of the United Railroads are so depraved and inhuman as to instigate so horrible a crime we must also conclude that they are fools. So far as Calhoun and his associates are concerned, they had drawn all of Gallagher's fire. He had testified three times against Turey L. Ford, and each time his testimony was weakened by contradictions and details which destroyed credence in his story. He had done the railroad people all the harm it was in his power to inflict, and had left the stand on the day of the explosion an utterly discredited man.

The simplest order of intellect would have foreseen that any attack on Gallagher would have been laid at the door of the United Railroads, and employed, as it is now being employed, to create prejudice against the corporation and the defendant on trial. Therefore, to have assassinated Gallagher after his testimony was all in would have been an act of suicidal folly. Is it to be assumed that men like Calhoun, Ford, Abbott and Mullally are so deficient in everyday wisdom as to perpetrate a hideous crime that would recoil with terrible effect on themselves and enormously strengthen their enemies? But this assumption must also be predicated on the assumption that they belong to the lowest order of criminals, men without compunction, remorse or humanity. And it must further be assumed that they took the desperate risk of placing themselves and their fortunes at the mercy of thugs and assassins.

All the above assumptions must be accepted as true before any reasoning person can give credence to the unsupported accusations of Heney and the organs of the Spreckels prosecution. If the side profiting most by the crime is to be charged with its commission, then the guilt lies nearer the door of the prosecution than of the defense.

Strangely enough, the appearance of Emma Goldman in California was followed by the sequel of an unusually violent explosion in Oakland.

The visitors will shortly start to arrive, and the Oakland business men, like the man who fought a hornet's nest, believe that the more that come the merrier it will be.

The conservative Governor Hughes, seeing that his Presidential aspirations are hopelessly wound up in the racing question in New York, has called an extra session of the legislature with the hope that he may scratch out a victory.

Bryan is still on the job of looking pleasant, but there are any number of good old line Democrats who think that the smile will be on the other side of his face after next November 3.

After all, that large and noisome explosion at Gallagher's house didn't blow him loose from any of the ill-gotten increment.

Given the half of a chance and your Celt will do fairly well. Given no chance at all and he will fight hard enough to make a winning.

When the Lord creates a wise man, the devil supplies him with enemies.

Whether there is any use in "Bryan" over spilt milk or not, there is a noisy gentleman from Nebraska who thinks it helps some to bray over lost votes.

Mr. Roosevelt must have something under serious consideration. He has not made any very noticeable noise in the public prints of late.

There is one cinch, that, no matter what else happens, none of the married delegates will go to the national conventions un-instructed.

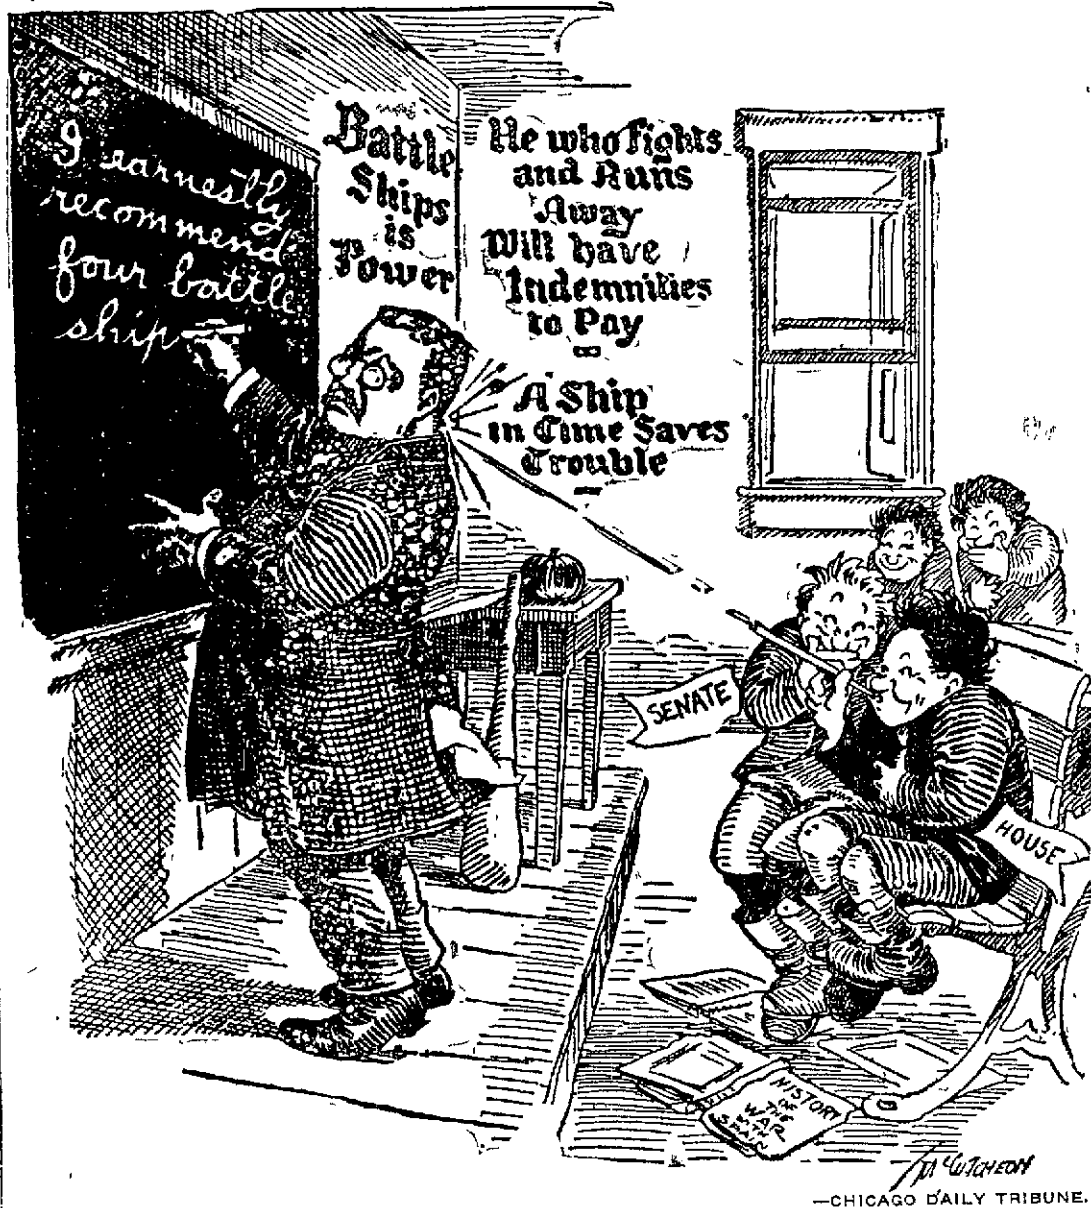

Home rule may finally reach Ireland, but unless it gets a hump on it will never be pinched for violating the international speed limit.

And didn't someone mention the name of Charles Fairbanks of Indiana for the Presidency once?

Also, has it come to pass that one may utter "pshaw" with impunity every time a well-known Iowa banker's name is mentioned?

And does it call for a "knock" when Pennsylvania's smug Senator is cheerfully referred to as the choice of the G. O. P. of Pennsylvania?

GETTING EVEN WITH TEACHERS.

Phelan the Apostle of Murder.

The dastardly attempt to blow up Jim Gallagher is a direct and logical result of the teachings of James D. Phelan, who stood up before an audience in a church in Alameda and advocated assassination. Phelan incited and apotheosized the spirit of murder by declaring that the publisher of THE TRIBUNE ought to be shot down on his own doorstep, a deed that Phelan said would be entirely justifiable.

Now Phelan professes to be filled with holy horror because of the attempt on Gallagher's life. He forgets that he justified that very sort of atrocity when he advocated the assassination of William E. Dargie at his own hearthstone. His glorification, in a fane dedicated to the worship of God, of private assassination met a response in the bomb thrown in Gallagher's house.

None the less, the wrecking of the Gallagher home was a foul atrocity worthy only of savages. Murder is murder notwithstanding James D. Phelan's advocacy of it. "Thou shalt do no murder" was thundered from Sinai, and is still the law of Christianity, humanity and civilization. Neither the pulpit nor Phelan can sanctify assassination nor specious arguments justifying it.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS

Not infrequently prisoners at the bar give evidence of talent worthy of a better cause than crime. Recently a couple of men who had been convicted of stealing a cow and stealing a watch respectively, met while exercising in the courtyard of the prison.

"What time is it?" inquired the cow thief in a grimly humorous vein.

"Milk time," was the unexpected reply.—Tatler.

One day the question of "prayer" arose in my Sunday school class and a little girl, who appeared to be listening attentively, finally spoke up and said: "If I should be upstairs praying and my mother downstairs should call me, would it be proper for me to interrupt my prayer?"

Before I had time to reply, another one of my bright young boys said: "Why, of course, it would, God will excuse you; and, besides, he never gets angry, while your mother sometimes does."—Chicago Tribune.

LACKED MENTALITY.

Harold's mother was a devout follower of mental science. The two were cross when the lad saw a goat in the distance he shielded himself instinctively behind his parent's skirt.

"Harold, I'm ashamed of you," she told him "Don't you know there is no such hurt you?"

"Yes," he admitted timidly. "I know it and you know it, but the goat don't know it."—Kansas City Times.

Farmers, mechanics, railroaders, laborers rely on Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Takes the sting out of cuts, burns or bruises at once. Pain cannot stay where it is used.

MASTICK PARK is the popular residence district of the "Island City." It is only 10 minutes away from the heart of Oakland, with good rail and traction service. Frontage with all improvements, $20 to $32, on easiest kind of terms. We will build a limited number of houses on monthly payments like rent. Reasonable building restrictions guarantee environment. Many homes already built, many building. Where can you go in any direction the same distance, with the same advantages, and buy for the same prices on as easy terms? Think it over, then come and see for yourself.

From Oakland take Alameda car to 8th and Santa Clara then walk 3 blocks north to tract office. Or take S. P. Horseshoe train to Mastick station; then walk one block north to office.

Royal Woman Makes Candles

A most unusual trade was adopted by the Archduchess Frederick of Austria, well known as the mother of numerous pretty daughters. She is a candlemaker and her candles are most beautifully decorated and smell so sweet that her imperial highness makes a lot of money by selling her product for use in the boudoirs of the royal and imperial sisters. The archduchess who is a devout Catholic supplies the Pope with candles for the Sistine Chapel of St. Peter's when the Pope says mass there.

Did Not Say "HUBBY GETS ON MY NERVES"

Wife Deserts Secretary of Millionaire Gates

NEW YORK April 23.—"The statement that I said my husband got on my nerves I want denied. Further than that I have nothing to say. This is the only explanation Mrs. Marian W. Lawrence daughter of Judge Patrick H. Gilmore of Elizabeth N. I would make today in regard to her sudden departure from her husband Fredrick K. W. Lawrence in February. Mrs. Lawrence returned recently from Paris where she was found some weeks ago living in the Latin quarter after relatives had searched for weeks. It is understood that Mrs. Lawrence had been with her husband who formerly was secretary to Charles W. Gates and whom she ran away to marry in November 1906. Her present plan is to live at a hotel in New York. Later a settlement will be made upon her after which steps will be taken toward a complete separation.

ORIGINATOR OF AFFINITY THEORY SLAPS THE REPORTER'S FACE

NEW YORK April 23.—When Ferdinand Pinney Earle the artist best known in America as the exponent of the affinity or soul mate doctrine arrived in port recently he had with him his new wife last year only his affinity and a new slave. On the way out to Monroe N. Y. where he has a country house he was besieged by reporters and camera men. Last year he sought them today he smashed at the face of one man who tried to interview him on the train.

Accompanied by his mother Mrs. Liberty Earle and his brother in law Albert Kutter Ferdinand Pinney and his wife started for Jersey City to take the train for Monroe trailed by a young army of photographers and reporters.

Slaps Reporter. On the way out to Monroe from Jersey City the two Mrs. Earles sat on one seat and behind them sat the two men. Behind them were two reporters. One of these leaned over and asked the artist for a statement. The newly married man made a back hand slap at the reporter hitting him in the face and breaking his glasses. He made some remarks indicating that he had recognized the reporter as the man who last fall had thought printed some matter that was not satisfactory to him. A crowd of passengers who got a full 10 cents worth of free show.

Charivari Fails. In the evening a party of twenty young men with lots of time on their hands engaged the services of a drum corps so called made up of a brass drum and a broken winded cornet and set out for a drunken thrill to give the party a charivari. They entered the grounds and walked up to the house. There on the piazza stood Earle. The paraders forgot their intention and stood looking foolish.

Embarrassing Situation. Come on in said Earle "glad to see you." The paraders fled in sheepishly. They stood aimlessly looking from Earle to his wife then at his mother and his brother in law. No one found anything to say until one man blurted out "We wish you happiness."

"Thanks," said Earle "We're all happy I'm sure. It's kind of you to wish us happiness. It shows there are no hard feelings and we are going to have a pleasant time."

But I could not stand their interference and my wife's unwelcome conduct and for this reason returned to Cincinnati January 18 1908. She always objected, and for months refused to live with me as man and wife.

I am now preparing to sue Mr. and Mrs. Hirsch for $100,000 in the United States Court in Philadelphia for alienation of my wife's affections and have already selected counsel there and I shall file a cross-petition for divorce.

MERRY WIDOW

Women Not Very Successful in Getting Through Doors Catholic Priest Bars This Head-Gear From His Church

The "merry widow hat" the raging mode in millinery is the innocent reason why women are getting it in the neck. To be explicit it is causing a widespread affliction termed the "pay-as-you-enter crick."

This wonderful state of affairs was unveiled recently at the heels of the report from Kansas City. Mo. that the Rev. Anton Kuhls priest of St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Kansas City has placed a ban on all broad hats among the women in his parish. He recently announced that "any one coming to church with such a hat will be requested to leave it with the sexton."

The "pay-as-you-enter crick" is a crick in the neck resulting from maneuvering one's hat through the narrow doors of the new cars. It is an ailment that cripples the "automobile ogle" the "bridge-while-rheumatism" and the "roll links" aquat for people of fashion. Several collatable ideas have been forwarded by inventive minds to allow free entrance.

"I suppose some women and girls will find trouble in steering their big hats into our new cars," said an official of the railway company recently, but I think that these cars have plenty of other pleasant features to overshadow the dead antlers. Last fall I remember that the ugliness of the hats ran mostly to the rear, but now it seems to spread all about.

At a recent milliners' convention it was predicted that "the big hat will join

Urges Women to Study Personal Magnetism

SOUTH NORWALK Conn April 24.—Judge John H. Light member of the Board of School Visitors in an address last evening before the Norwalk Town Teachers Association on "The Psychology of Teachers" urged the young women to spend an hour of study each day in the development of personal magnetism the same as they would the study of any art.

Primarily this was for the purpose of gaining the interest and the attention and the love of their pupils. He said secondly it was not only to obtain a husband but that the discipline might be much time in cultivating personal magnetism as they did in dressing their hair.

Judge Light said only one-fourth of the teachers married. If they had spent as much time in cultivating personal magnetism as they did in dressing their hair he declared three-fourths of them would be married.

and extreme dimensions will be worn only by chorus girls. Wrong Actresses and those who yearn to be such form only a small battalion in the vast army of those who navigate "merry widow hats." A birdseye view of any street resembles a rippling flower garden instead of an expanse of cement and asphalt these days. In the theaters special checkrooms for women's hats probably will be provided for these scarce items for both madam and her lid. In one cramped orchestra chair the umbrella hat, water proofed with all through the number and at the end when she and the prima donna execute together and there's a recall the other and the lady take it together. Then in the second act, when at a critical moment in the plot the goat should appear she does it without any bumping and then goes off about her business again.

The girl joined the party near the entrance to the tearoom. At the downstairs cigar stand before the clerk was aware what was happening the two men came together in a quick close quarter action. Gillingham going to the floor with a heavy swing from his rival Thompson had one black eye as a result of this preliminary bout and Gillingham was minus two front teeth.

Thompson and the girl were earnestly conversing when the former received a satisfaction he given at some future place and time "the earlier the better." Thompson resented the tenor of the note and was quick to accept the challenge. Despite the protests of his partner he sprang to meet Gillingham, who was standing with friends in the Clover hall.

He is said to have named a place where the fight could have been pulled off last night to a finish. It apparently was not satisfactory to Gillingham who declined and named another battleground.

"Oh! You are nothing but a d-d coward, anyway," hissed Thompson, "you won't fight anywhere." He reckoned without his host. Quick as a flash Gillingham shot out his right and Thompson went to the floor. In a second back on his feet he landed on Gillingham's nose, drawing a flow of blood which made the audience of fashionable women shiver and shudder. The girl was quickly in the thick of the melee as peacemaker. So were the house detectives.

SOCIETY

Villan and John Gray Stubbs took place last evening at the home of the bridegroom's sister Mrs. M. W. Jellett in Summit street. The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. C. Stubbs, president of the University of Nevada, and an uncle of the bridegroom.

Under a bower of pink roses the pretty ceremony was solemnized while the dining room was decorated with snoballs and red hued electric lights while in the hall green was the prevailing color. About thirty relatives only of the couple were in attendance at the wedding.

The bride wore a gown of white messaline satin trimmed with lace, and a long tulle veil with a wreath of real orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor Miss Wilbur of Alameda was gowned in pale blue silk and carried bridesmaid roses. Mr. Stubbs was attended by his brother, Will Stubbs of Los Angeles. Into the evening an elaborate wedding supper was served in the dining-room.

Mrs. Stubbs is the daughter of Mrs. G. Westphal of Michigan and was formerly a student at Stanford University. She has a wide acquaintance in EDWARDSVILLE Ill April 23.—Absence of some and the illness of others kept Barker Charles Willis Terry from announcing his choice of a life partner to the members of the Evening Whist Club last night. The club is composed of some of the foremost society girls of this city and a month ago some of them were dared into writing a leap year proposal to the most eligible bachelor in town—Mr. Terry.

The latter said he had received photographs and letters from almost every state in the union, some of which he read and exhibited, but when pressed to name his choice he steadfastly refused until all the members could be present.

CINCINNATI O April 19.—When the courts hear my story it will be surprising," said Alexander Meis whose wife was Miss Fannie D. Hirsch of Philadelphia has brought suit for divorce.

"I was married to Fannie W. Hirsch on January 19 1905," said Meis and I have had constant trouble since I brought my bride to Cincinnati. We lived at the Alms Hotel on Walnut Hills but she always objected to living in Cincinnati. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Hirsch. Her father is a man of large means and a retired merchant in Philadelphia and they have constantly interfered since my marriage. So much so that I moved to Philadelphia December last, to live and make it my home."

But I could not stand their interference and my wife's unwelcome conduct and for this reason returned to Cincinnati January 18 1908. She always objected, and for months refused to live with me as man and wife.

I am now preparing to sue Mr. and Mrs. Hirsch for $100,000 in the United States Court in Philadelphia for alienation of my wife's affections and have already selected counsel there and I shall file a cross-petition for divorce.

Lively charges that Martin's parents stung him to leave his new wife and abetted him in his purpose to go to Italy to study art leaving the bride to resume her old task of stenography as a means of making her living.

Mrs. Lively learned that the young man was leaving her and she went before the Cook county grand jury and procured a true bill. Then she asked the police to get him in New York and so he was arrested.

The Chicago police were notified in the evening of the arrest and Detective John Robin will go to New York today to bring young Martin back to this city. Robin will carry extradition papers to which were prepared during the evening by Chief Clerk William Luthardt of the detective bureau. The police expect the

SOCIETY SHOCKED BY A FIGHT AT CONCERT

Two Jealous Admirers of Pretty Girl Get Into Trouble 'You Are Nothing but a D---d Coward Anyway' SAYS ONE

PHILADELPHIA April 24.—In the midst of the usual gay afternoon concert one afternoon recently at the Bellevue-Stratford when the tea room and lobby were filled with a throng of well-gowned women great excitement occurred when two well-known young Germantown men came to blows over the favors of one of the prettiest girls present.

In the immediate scene of the conflict was the Clover Hall leading from the Walnut street promenade to the main lobby. At the moment the first blow was struck this portion of the lobby was packed with society women. The two antagonists were Albert V. Gillingham son of Albert T. Gillingham auditor of passenger receipts of the Pennsylvania Railroad himself an employee of the company and Richard Thompson son of Robert L. Thompson proprietor of the firm of Thompson & Co. fashionable tailors, in Eleventh street near Walnut. Gillingham resides at 1551 Germantown avenue in Chestnut Hill, and Thompson at 1429 Boyer street, Germantown. The young woman is a pretty and popular Germantown girl, living, it is said near Tulpehocken street and Germantown avenue.

Gillingham and Thompson have run an even race for the girl's favor for the last six months or until about two weeks ago. After much consideration about this time she showed sufficient partiality to young Thompson to make Gillingham convinced that he had loved and lost. The apple thrown by the girl at once created discord. The young men, long friends, met and quarreled.

On the day in question after business hours Thompson met the young woman at the Bellevue-Stratford to enjoy together the concert and gossip.

Gillingham strolled in with friends and joined the pair. What immediately occurred is not known but the young men quickly adjourned to the

The Man from Rome

This is the title of a continued story by Marie Van Vorst, starting in this week's issue of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST.

An American, rich beyond the dreams of avarice; a young son with pockets bursting with spending money, a daughter spoiled and beautiful; also the man from Rome. These persons act a powerful story, tragic in places, which will be illustrated by A. B. Wenzell and Vernon Howe Bailey.

The title suggests a hinted international marriage—but not this one.

Better begin to read this story now. It is hard to get back numbers of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST. This week's issue is now on sale.

The Swine and the Flower

Oh me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty,
Wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred,
Whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye;
Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of LARD!"

I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first
One glistening mass of roses pure and white,
With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage nursed;
And as I lingered o'er the lovely sight,
The summer breeze that cooled that Southern scene,
Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLENE!"

Nature's Gift from the Sunny South

COTTOLENE is a pure and wholesome frying and shortening medium, made from refined cottonseed oil. There is not an ounce of hog fat in it to make food unwholesome, greasy and indigestible. As evidence of its superiority, COTTOLENE received Grand Prize (highest possible award) at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition.

tion; and Gold Medals (also representing highest awards in each case) at the Charleston Exposition, the Paris Exposition, and the Chicago World's Fair. In fact, in every case wherever COTTOLENE has been exhibited in competition with other cooking fats, it has invariably been granted the highest award.

INTERESTING NOTES ABOUT THE PLAYHOUSES

There may be some hardships connected with stage life and actors and actresses may continue to shout themselves hoarse in giving advice to youngsters to "keep away from the stage," but as long as the rising generation gets glimpses of such artists as Stella Mayhew speeding around town every day in her own automobile the rush of the stage-struck folk is likely to continue.
Stella Mayhew laughed yesterday when a TRIBUNE photographer took a picture of her seated in the big touring car which she carries about with her on the vaudeville tours that she makes each year. Her laugh was due to the fact that some one had asked her whether she didn't "find the touring car a nuisance."
"Nuisance," laughed Miss Mayhew, showing the good nature that is so conspicuous a feature of her act at the Oakland Orpheum each night. "Why should it be thought a nuisance? It's a treasure. I wouldn't be without it for worlds. It is the one thing that makes life enjoyable away from home."
Miss Mayhew took a whirl out through the University campus yesterday with a party of theatrical people and declared that the scenery en route was unmatched anywhere in all of this broad land, and that the view of the bay from the University campus was superb.

WILSON HAS UNHAPPY HOUR

Flounders Desperately in an Attempt to Make His Testimony Suit the Demands of Prosecution.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—Ex-Supervisor Wilson spent a very unpleasant hour on the witness stand in the Ford trial yesterday afternoon under a searching cross-examination by Attorney Stanley Moore. The attorney succeeded in getting the broker to admit that his testimony yesterday on direct examination was the same as that which he gave in the trial in which the defendant was accused of having attempted to bribe the late Thomas Loneragan.

This admission places Wilson under the big stick which is hanging over the heads of all the grafting Supervisors, but over his head in a particular manner, for the reason that Wilson, in his testimony in the Loneragan trial, did not mention the grafting Supervisors, three more indictments were returned against him that he had "to be good" or else he would have to fight to keep from going to prison.

Getting Into Trouble.

After the last indictments had been returned, Wilson felt that he was going to get into trouble and made his peace with the graft prosecutors by stating that he had been misunderstood and that he was willing to tell a story which he thought would be satisfactory to them. Moore, however, when he told Wilson that his testimony was just the same as that which he had given in the Loneragan trial, the question arose as to whether the graft prosecutors who were dissatisfied with Wilson's story in the first trial are to do with the much-protested witness to be consistent, people say, the prosecutors must press those indictments against Wilson or pile a few more of them on his luckless head.

Discovered His "Mistake."

Wilson's offense in the first trial consisted in stating that he had never spoken of money to Supervisors when he was endeavoring to induce them to favor the trolley franchise which was, of course, a blow to the prosecution. He discovered the mistake he had made when Supervisor Mamlock took the stand and told of several instances in which Wilson had spoken to him on the subject. Wilson then appealed to the prosecution, asking them to believe that he had not intended to deceive and then tried to show that he had been misunderstood in his testimony and that what he meant to have testified to would be appreciated by them. His plea was supposed to have caused the prosecution to suspend the indictments they had returned against him.

Will Have to Explain.

Now, Mr. Wilson will have to do some more explaining to the men who are being the stick. Moore wanted to know why he had been indicted and whether or not he had changed his testimony since he had given it the first time. Wilson was uneasy and also the auditors, when the man admitted that he told the same story yesterday as that which previously did no please the prosecutors.

"What did you testify to in the first of the Loneragan trial?" asked Moore. "In the first trial," said Wilson, "I testified that I had never spoken about money in the trolley case to any of the Supervisors. That was in a general way. Max Mamlock took the stand and testified that he had spoken to me about money in the case. I then recalled that Mr. Mamlock and myself, later, had talked about it. I saw there was a discrepancy in the testimony and I went the next day to see Burns and I told him that what I said was intended in a general way. I told Henry that I did not mean it in the way it was given."

"Was that testimony given in the Loneragan trial correct or not?" "Only in the particulars that in one place I mentioned that I had not mentioned money to the Supervisors."

"Don't you say now that you never told any of the Supervisors that they would be paid money?" "In a general way."

Why He Was Indicted.

"Isn't it a fact that the prosecution was not satisfied with your testimony and that they then indicted you?" "I don't know as to that, but there was so much talk in the air that money was to be paid that it may have caused a misunderstanding. Naturally, this led the district attorney to believe that there was some motive underlying my testimony. I was very sick that day. I was operated on and my doctor went to tell Mr. Burns that I was not in condition to testify. I was sick and dazed when I stated that I had not talked about money to the Supervisors. I saw there was some discrepancy and I did not consider that the district attorney had treated me fairly. At that time I had not spoken about money, but, at a subsequent time, I don't mean that that was the case."

Professes Ignorance.

"Do you know what you were indicted for, or were you indicted on general principles?" "I don't know why I was indicted."

"You do know that, shortly after the Loneragan trial you were indicted three times?" "I told Mr. Burns that I was not in a condition to go on the stand."

"Did Mr. Burns say that you were going to strengthen your testimony?" "No, sir; Mr. Burns did not know what my testimony was going to be. My testimony was given to my attorney."

"Who is your attorney?" "Mr. Richardson."

"When did you give him your testimony?" "Some time after that trial. Richardson went over the whole matter with me and said that he had given it to Mr. Cobb."

"Were you indicted for perjury, or for anything else?" "No, sir; I was indicted for accepting money for the purpose of influencing Supervisors in the trolley matter."

"And for what other things?" "Just in the case, the telephone and the trolley matters."

Immunity Contracts.

"Those alleged offenses had been covered by the immunity contract which had been arranged for by J. L. Gallagher and Rudolph Spreckels?" "Yes."

"Did you say in the first Ford trial that you did not mention money to the Supervisors?" "Wilson replied that he had failed to mention in his testimony, that he had covered on the subject with Supervisors Cobb and Mamlock."

"Was it for that omission that you were indicted?" asked Stanley Moore.

Wilson Gets Tangled Up.

Wilson said that he did not know why he had been indicted.

"Did you testify, a few minutes ago, that you had been indicted because you did not mention money in the talks you had with the Supervisors?"

"When I first spoke to the Supervisors no mention of money was made. In my testimony I was so confused that I did not mention the talks that I had with some of the Supervisors."

"Well, did you or did you not mention money to the Supervisors in the first talk that you had with them?"

"No, I didn't."

"In that conversation they told you how they stood?"

"Yes."

"You found them favorable and you so reported?"

"Yes."

"With whom was it that you mentioned money matters?"

"With Furey and Max Mamlock. I always talked to them about money in this matter."

Mention of Money.

"What is your testimony today regarding the conversation with members in which money was mentioned?"

"The first time money was not mentioned. The first time it was mentioned was that on the day at the meeting of the board when the trolley ordinance was passed to print. Then the first conversation was held regarding the price was to be paid."

"You say that your testimony was given to Mr. Cobb?"

"Yes; my attorney went over it with me and then he satisfied Mr. Cobb that I had not intentionally made the omission."

"What was Mr. Cobb to do with the testimony?"

"He was to see the district attorney."

"And you are acting under the sheltering wing of that contract of immunity?"

"I feel that when the time comes the district attorney will feel that I have come here to tell the truth and that he will act accordingly."

"And then there will be nothing more heard of those three indictments?" said Moore with a significant smile.

Wilson said no more and O'Garra took him in hand for a short time and the witness was then excused and an expression of relief swept over his features.

Real estate bargains like North Cragmont are never offered except in times like these. In ordinary times we could have sold this whole tract or twice the price asked for lots today, and never left our office—could have sold it over the telephone; could have sold it all last week at a big profit, but we promised it to our customers and they shall have it.

Every person who has an idle dollar and don't get a lot in this tract will be kicking himself in less than a month, for North Cragmont is ideal. The lots are large, averaging 150x50 feet, the building restrictions require at least $2500 residences, and they must be artistic and are not allowed to be jammed up against the neighbor's home. There is every reason why you should get in on this great bargain and if you miss it you'll be sorry, for such a snap will never be offered again—it's the one opportunity that comes to you today because a few men need cash and must sacrifice good, valuable property to get it.

We have been bothered and pestered all week by other agents who want to trade high class property in other sections for lots in North Cragmont. There isn't an agent in Oakland or Berkeley who has been on this property but what says candidly and honestly that North Cragmont at the prices asked is simply a snap and outclasses anything offered in this county.

This great sale starts tomorrow (Saturday) at 1 o'clock. The first comers get the best lots; but all are good. The sale continues until 5 p. m. and opens again Sunday at 9 a. m., continuing all day.

And what a busy day it will be, for already 235 applications have been received, but no lots will be sold until 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. There can be no favorites at such a sale as this.

North Cragmont overlooks Berkeley, Oakland, San Francisco, the Bay and the Shore of Marin—the view is superb.

It is located on the gradually sloping hillsides adjacent to North Berkeley—a continuation of the rising elevation which begins at the University grounds.

It is within a few minutes' walk of the Spruce-street car line, which will be extended through North Cragmont as soon as sufficient building warrants.

North Cragmont faces southwest and is protected from the severe winds by a forest of thriving eucalyptus trees. It is well watered, finely drained and sufficiently elevated to be above the smoke and dust of Berkeley, assuring not only an unobstructed view but also it receives the pure ozone right from the Pacific to keep its people healthy, refreshed and invigorated.

It is a fine thing to own your own home—but it's simply grand to own a home in North Cragmont.

Here you can get a large, roomy lot—big enough for any one—large enough for a big home—a garden—a barn or garage. The building restrictions prevent your neighbor from setting his home up against yours.

You know a 50 foot lot is wide enough, and you have a depth of from 130 to 200 feet.

The boulevards and streets were laid out by a landscape engineer artistically and symmetrically to fit the contour of the hills. They are wide and winding, and will be graded and macadamized at our expense.

Your sidewalks will be cemented and curbed at our expense; sewer and water pipes will be laid to your door at our expense; there'll be no taxes or interest to pay for two years. It's just a snap for the home builder, and that's all there is to it.

The name of Havens has been identified with most of the successful sales of particularly choice real estate on the east shore of San Francisco Bay.

This name stands for only the best of choice, preferred property. We handle no other and our clients are among the satisfied home builders who can today take a handsome profit on the lots they bought on our recommendation.

Do you remember Piedmont Heights property? It was sold three years ago at about $20 a foot. Today it readily commands $60 and you can go all over America and not find its equal for beauty and artistic homes.

Piedmont is now covered with the exclusive homes of the well to do middle classes. We said it was a bargain—and it was; we said it would increase in value—and it has.

Piedmont has more than made good, and what was said about Piedmont less than three years ago we now emphatically say about North Cragmont.

Buy a lot there today, pay what you can down, and in less than three years take your profit; but you won't—you and your family will be so delighted with this garden spot and so satisfied with the class of neighbors who will surround you that money will not tempt you to give up your cozy and desirable home. That is the experience of every one who buys lots on the recommendation of Havens, for we never handle property that we ourselves do not believe is worth more than we ask for it.

North Cragmont is the last of the choice hillside property—the very best of the last—when it's sold there is no more—get a lot today.

Hillside property in Berkeley has been gradually increasing in value for three years. Piedmont started it, North Cragmont will end it, for this magnificent property is the last of the good hillside property. This fact alone insures its future value, for when it is covered with fine homes, and it will be soon, there will be a steady increasing demand for lots in this location, and demand means high prices.

North Cragmont has been in demand for years—but the owners refused to sell—financial conditions compelled them to sell—it's your opportunity.

"It's an ill wind that blows nobody good" is an old saying, but it refers directly to North Cragmont. This property was fenced and allowed to increase in value. It was the intention of the former owners to keep it for three years longer, then get five times the present price, but money was needed—quick cash—and the property must be sold, and sold at a sacrifice, and that gives every wideawake, sensible investor an opportunity to take advantage of others' misfortunes.

Beautiful high-class homes are now being built within a few hundred feet of North Cragmont. You'll be in a good neighborhood.

Five years ago you could have bought high class property for a few dollars a foot in North Berkeley—now selling for $100 a foot. North Cragmont is separated from this $100 a foot property by only a fence. This fence comes down tomorrow. There will be nothing to prevent North Cragmont from jumping to five times its present price. Will you buy tomorrow or wait and buy after the raise and pay five times more?

You can take advantage of these exceptionally low prices by paying 10% down and 1% a month—as little as 20c a day.

Large, splendid lots will be sold from $600 to $1000—10 per cent down and 1 per cent a month. For instance, you can buy a 50x150 foot lot for $600, pay $60 down and $6 a month.

Now, a $600 lot in North Cragmont is a bargain, for it is far superior to lots selling in other tracts at $1200 to $1500. North Cragmont is desirable property surrounded by all the advantages of a growing and prosperous city.

Berkeley is the cleanest home city in California. It has no saloons, no rough or tough element. The environment is wholesome, and here you have school and college facilities that cannot be equaled by any other city in the world. You have a rapid, clean and modern train and boat service to San Francisco—two such services, and both will continue to improve and cut down the time.

You have good churches and theaters near by and your neighbors and associates are among the nicest, cleanest and most respected citizens of any country.

Your children will have the refreshing and natural advantages of the country, for over the ridge above North Cragmont are forests and streams. Your children can enjoy sturdy health which comes from clean, open air, out-of-door life and at the same time receive benefits of superior educational facilities.

Here children will associate with refined and genteel people and their lives will be greatly influenced by the right and proper comingling with the kind of people who are constantly elevating and advancing.

Think what it means for parents to be relieved of the responsibility and cares of raising little girls and boys in filthy, congested cities.

At night your family is about you. The children have been playing out in God's sunshine and fresh air all day and have become naturally sleepy and healthfully tired because of their play and exercise under the open sky.

You see them tucked in their little beds and you can realize that their little bodies are sound and strong and their child minds are pure and unsoiled. Your reward is your comfort and peace, and you know they are safe. Think of the lives of children sacrificed through the crime and filth which prevails in the congested and busy centers of a large city. This thought alone should encourage you to live in North Cragmont.

Whether you have children or not, whether you ever build in North Cragmont, remember that others have children—others will want homes—and if you buy a lot in North Cragmont today you have a valuable asset which you can turn into gold as this place receives the attention it surely will from its most advantageous surroundings.

If you allow the Speculators to buy these lots at these exceptionally low prices, you'll have to pay them a big profit—get in early, make the profit yourself.

There are going to be a lot of speculators take advantage of this bargain. As much as we wish to confine this sale to home builders, we can't prevent speculators buying.

You know it will be an easy matter for a speculator to pay $60 down and $6 a month for three months—$78 in all—and then turn round and sell for $1000, making a profit of $400 from investment of only $78.

If you home builders buy today and Sunday, you'll make this profit yourself—almost enough to buy the lumber for a fine residence.

Come to Berkeley Station Saturday or Sunday—Key Route or S. P. Trains. Our automobiles will meet you—the ride will not cost you a cent—those who come are our guests, entitled to all the courtesies and hospitality of a guest—a good lunch free. No obligations to buy—the view from North Cragmont will repay for your visit.

Famous Duke Who Wed American Dies While on Honeymoon

FIRES SHOT IN HEAD IN STREET DUC DE CHAULNES IS FOUND DEAD IN BED

THE DUC DE CHAULNES AND HIS BRIDE.

Many Witness Deed of Would-Be Suicide, Who Staggers to the Hospital for Assistance.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—In the presence of fully a dozen persons, who were hurrying along the water front on their way to work at 5 o'clock this morning, Joseph Dall, a negro, 25 years old, stepped to the middle of the street, placed a revolver to his neck and fired a shot up into his head. He then staggered a half block to the harbor emergency hospital and received attention from Surgeon Zopham, who was on duty.

The bullet ranged upward and came out just above the nose, inflicting a dangerous, but not necessarily fatal wound. After he had been treated he was moved to the detention hospital, where he was recognized by Steward Emerson as a man who had been sent to the Stockton insane asylum from Alameda county about two years ago.

WILKINS CALM IN THE FACE OF DEATH

Convicted Murderer Causes but Little Trouble to His Watchers.

Mark A. Wilkins, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Yarnall, has assumed a demeanor that is puzzling to the county jail authorities. Wilkins, although he has death staring him in the face, is calm and quiet, sleeps regularly and eats well. He reads a great deal and talks but little. He shows but little emotion and seems bright and cheery.

Although Wilkins has shown no desire to escape, he has been placed in a portion of the jail which is stronger and better guarded than the remainder. The condemned man is a model prisoner and causes but little trouble to those who are watching him. He is non-talkative and will not make a statement as to his opinion of the verdict against him.

District Attorney Brown says that he has looked over the record in the case and in his opinion there is not a loop-hole upon which Attorney Hugs McLean could base an appeal for Wilkins.

McLean promises a long legal battle before Wilkins is sent to the gallows, and declares that he believes his client will finally gain his liberty.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Asks for Letters.—A petition was filed yesterday at the county clerk's office by Roscoe Havens asking for letters of administration of the estate of the late Benjamin K. Blake, one of the pioneers of this city and founder of the Blake Academy for Girls. Elizabeth Havens is said to be the only heir to the estate, which is valued at $50,000.

Found Not Guilty.—Charles Farrell, who was accused of assault with a deadly weapon by Edward Purse, was acquitted by a jury yesterday in Superior Judge Ogden's court. Purse claimed Farrell cut him with a bread knife.

Alleged Forgery.—Harry Herstine, a former deputy constable, was arrested and charged with forgery at the city prison yesterday on complaint of Joseph Brown of the firm of Brown & Magnin, 88 Broadway. Sudden Death of Theo. P. Shonts' Son-in-Law.

PARIS, April 24.—The Duc de Chaulnes, who in February was married to Miss Theodora Shonts, daughter of Theodore P. Shonts, president of the Interborough-Metropolitan Railway Company, was today found dead in his bed in his apartments at the Hotel Langham in the Rue Boccador. The death of the duke was found by his wife. The death of the young man was due to embolism, the obstruction of an artery.

Cable to Shonts. NEW YORK April 24.—A cable dispatch to Theodore P. Shonts of this city received today, announced the sudden death in Paris of his son-in-law, the Duc de Chaulnes.

The duke and Miss Shonts were married in this city recently and were in Europe on their wedding trip.

The duchess entered her husband's room this morning but found that she could not awaken him. She quickly summoned help.

A doctor came in response to her summons and after an examination he pronounced the man dead. A commissary of police was at once notified and the inquest opened.

Due to Natural Causes. At the conclusion of the inquest the coroner declared that death was due to natural causes and that it had been brought about by embolism. The police later issued a permit of interment.

The Duke and Duchess had lived at the Hotel Langham for three weeks awaiting the completion of their private residence, now in course of construction.

The news of the Duke's death came as a great shock to Mr. Shonts and his family. There had been no previous intimation that he was not in good health and the letters from the Duc received recently were happy in their tone, recounting merely the incidents of their trip and of their life in France. The cablegram to Mr. Shonts gave no details of the Duke's death, not even stating the cause of death. Immediately on its receipt Mr. Shonts sent a cablegram asking for further information.

Miss Shonts will leave for Paris tomorrow morning on the steamer St. Louis. It is probable that Mr. Shonts will accompany her.

Element of Mystery. PARIS, April 24.—The air of mystery surrounding the circumstances of the death of the duke which was created largely by misleading statements with reference to the place of death and ultimate disposition of the body was in no sense cleared up by a story which was generally circulated to the effect that the duke was in fact taken violently ill at some house other than his hotel and that he was hurriedly carried to the Langham, where he died shortly after his arrival. It was impossible to confirm or deny this rumor this morning.

A Startling Sequel. The death of the duke comes as a startling sequel to his recent marriage with Miss Shonts. The duke's full name and titles were Emmanuel Theodores Bernard Marie D'Albert De Luynes D'Alilly, ninth Duke of Chaulnes and of Piquigny and Marquis of Danegau. He was born in Paris in 1878.

Of Ancient Lineage. Besides his residence in the Paris Monarchy, quarter of Paris he had a chateau in the department of Sarthe. He was well known for his interest in athletics and all forms of outdoor diversion. He came of an old and distinguished family. The dukedom was established in 1826 and after the title had twice become extinct it was re-established in 1889 in favor of the late duke's father, the late Paul D'Albert De Luynes, brother of the Duc de Luynes, who died when his son was only three years old.

The duke's mother was Princess Sophia Augustovna Galitzin, who was noted for her beauty. She survived her husband only two years. The young duke and his sister, Therese, now the Duchess de Luynes, who is his senior by two years, were brought up in the home of their aunt, the Dowager Duchess.

The Duke and Miss Shonts were married in New York February 16 of this year at the Shonts home, 123 East Thirtieth street, before hundreds of guests, and it was in every respect a notable and brilliant social event.

The first month after the marriage was spent in the United States and the couple sailed for the other side on March 17 on board the steamer Teutonic.

Duke Was Wealthy. The duke inherited a fine patrimony from both his father and his grandmother along his titles, but it was generally understood he expended much of his fortune and he was said to have been financially embarrassed before his wedding with the American heiress.

COOKING IS APPROVE OF BADLY HURT LACK NERVE FINE ART OFFICIALS BY THUGS AT CRISIS

Declares Famous French Chef, Says Pie May Be All Right for America, but Not for France.

Col. John P. Irish Takes No Stock in Charges Made Against Some County Officers.

Oaklander Identifies the Footpad Who Knocked Him Down and Robbed Him of Valuables.

Two Under Arrest Declare They Were Forced to Stop Train by Robbers, Who Then Weakened.

NEW YORK, April 24.—Cooking as a fine art was the subject of the interview which George August Escottier, the noted French chef, gave the reporters on his arrival from Europe on the Deutschland last night. To a leading question about a characteristic American article of diet, Escottier, whom kings and governments have honored in acknowledging the excellence of his cooking, replied: "Pie may be all right for America, but not for France. French cooking regarded as a fine art," continued the chef, "is not a waste of talent, as has been charged by the envious. It does not induce bright diseases. That all depends upon the gourmet. A glutton will always be a glutton, no matter what you put before him."

Escottier, chief of cooks of a famous string of European restaurants in New York, was met at this side of the hotel chef, and will be the latter's guest while here. Although he has lived twenty years of his life in London, he does not speak English.

"I believe that the county government is well administered. I take no stock in the charges that have been broadsided against some of the county officials," declared Colonel John P. Irish last night in his address on "A Better Form of Government for Oakland" before the members of the Starr King fraternity at the First Unitarian Church, corner of Castro and Fourteenth streets.

Col. Irish and Albert Elliot, formerly president of the City Council, discussed and gave many reasons why there should be a consolidated city and county government. Both advocated a new charter. Elliot reviewed in detail the defects of the old charter and spoke of the special statutes that should be changed in order to obtain a more efficient government.

The meeting was closed by an address by the pastor, Rev. William Davidson. He spoke in favor of eliminating the saloon as a political factor, doing away with factional government in a municipality and made a plea for women suffrage.

(Special to The Tribune.) SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—William Davidson, a clerk who says he lives at Seventh and Broadway, Oakland, was held up and brutally beaten by two thugs who robbed him of his valuables at the corner of Third and Howard streets at 5:30 this morning. Davidson was proceeding along Howard street, when two men ran up behind him, and struck him twice upon the head.

He fell and the men went through his pockets, taking $1.50 and his gold watch and chain. Davidson set up a cry for help and Policeman Cook, who was in the neighborhood, set out in pursuit of the two men. When arrested they gave their names as William Ridick and Edward Fagen. The former was identified by Davidson, and accordingly charged with grand larceny. He was not sure of Fagen and as the police have had occasion to arrest him before, they charged him with vagrancy.

Davidson was removed to the Central Emergency Hospital, where Dr. T. J. Jones, who examined his wounds, consisted of two deep lacerations of the scalp.

SANTA FE CLERK GIVEN PROMOTION. Thomas H. Warrington, chief clerk in the local freight department of the Santa Fe railroad, has been promoted to be general agent at Sacramento. Warrington will be succeeded here by J. L. Jones from the San Francisco office of the Santa Fe. Warrington will take the place of W. B. Hinchman, who leaves Sacramento to take the general agency in San Francisco of the Tonopah and Tidewater railway.

TWO PERSONS INJURED IN APARTMENT FIRE. PITTSBURG, April 24.—Two persons were injured and 16 others narrowly escaped from a burning apartment house at Wilkinsburg, a suburb early today.

BUTTE, Mont., April 24.—Lack of nerve at a critical moment caused the failure of a desperate attempt about 7 o'clock last evening to hold up the west-bound North Coast Limited at a point two miles west of Welch's Spur and about twelve miles east of Butte, on the line of the Northern Pacific.

Rudolph Wenk, Paul Flentus and Al Teasdale have been arrested for complicity in the attempted hold-up and are being held in the county jail here. Wenk and Flentus admit having participated in the snugging of the train, claiming to have been forced to act by two armed and masked desperadoes who, when the train had come to a halt, lost their courage and made a quick get-away.

Had Dynamite. Flentus and Wenk walked to Welch's Spur station, where they arrived and told of the affair. Wenk and Flentus declared that the bandits had fifty sticks of dynamite with them and that it was planned by the masked desperadoes to blow up a portion of the train to secure the money supposed to be aboard. A stick of dynamite was found on the top of a low bluff beside the cut in which the train was stopped.

What was supposed to have been the report of torpedoes, thought to have been placed on the tracks, were reports of shots fired at the engineers by the two bandits, according to Flentus and Wenk.

ISABELLA MARTIN'S CASE CONTINUED; LAWYER AWAY. Accused Dynamiter Arraigned in Police Court on Felony Charge.

Owing to the absence of her attorney, A. L. Erick, the trial of Mrs. Isabella J. Martin, charged with dynamiting Judge Ogden's home, was continued until next Monday morning. Mrs. Martin's trial was to have been held in Police Judge Smith's court this morning, she having been arraigned on the charge of felony several days ago.

TRIBUNE'S ROLL OF HONOR

THE TRIBUNE'S roll of honor is getting larger every day and as a result this paper will, in a few days, have a large sum of money to turn over to the finance committee of the fleet reception fund. THE TRIBUNE is only handling the funds sent to this office. This money will be turned over to the committee. Every property owner in Oakland is expected to subscribe something to the fund.

The Oakland Orpheum management is always right up to date when it comes to boosting and public-spiritedness. George Ebeby, local representative of the big playhouse, sent $100 today for the fleet fund. "I spoke to M. Meyerfeld Jr., president of the Orpheum Circuit, yesterday about the matter," said Mr. Ebeby, "and he at once told me to send you a check for $100. We are glad to do our share to help entertain the visitors."

M. J. Layman is doing as much to boost the fleet business as any man in Oakland. He is most enthusiastic and he knows how to work. "Put R. A. Perry down for $50 to the fund," said Mr. Layman this morning. "He is manager of the North American Dredging Company, a property owner here and a progressive citizen. He thinks and I think every property owner in Oakland should contribute to the fund. Let us have all the money we want to spend."

SWIFT AUTO PLUNGES THROUGH FENCE INTO YARD

Heavy Car Rushes Toward Pastor's Wife

An auto driven without lights and at a terrific pace last night plunged through the fence surrounding the home of the Rev. Alfred J. Kennedy, at 570 Sixty-third street, and shot across walk and lawn before the heavy car was stopped. Mrs. Kennedy was sitting on the front porch with her children at the time. It was 8 o'clock and dark, and although she heard the auto approaching she was not aware how close it was until it crashed through the fence and dashed toward her. In fright she and the children sprang to their feet. The driver brought the car to a standstill, and hastily backing through the gap he had torn in the fence, disappeared. Mrs. Kennedy believes there was but one person in the auto. The Rev. Kennedy, who is pastor of the Shattuck avenue M. E. Church, was absent at the time.

RUEF JUROR WAS FIRST EXCUSED ON BOARD

Sensation in the Ruef Case Today When Morris Haas Was Suddenly Excused After Being Shown Picture From Rogues' Gallery.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—A sensation was sprung in the Ruef case after noon today, when immediately after Rudolf Spreckels had entered the court room and taken his seat beside Heney, the special prosecutor asked Morris Haas, one of the jurors, whether he had ever been a convict. Haas hesitated in his reply, and Heney showed him a picture which Spreckels had brought from the rogues' gallery.

He then admitted it was his photograph, and that he had been sent to San Quentin. Murphy interrupted to ask if he had not been pardoned, and Heney wanted to know how Murphy knew anything about it, intimating the defense had been all along aware of the fact that Haas had been a convict.

It developed that Haas' real name is Max Heney, and that he served two years in San Quentin for embezzlement, the complaining witness being Charles Lessinger, who subsequently committed suicide in 1891 by jumping from the third story of the Baldwin Hotel.

Haas was sentenced in 1888, and was later pardoned by Governor Waterman.

During the proceedings, when Heney accused Murphy of already knowing about Haas' history, Ruef was heard to say audibly "Denounce him." Heney was about to reply when Judge Dooling excused Haas from further duty. This leaves only nine jurors in the box.

BANK'S RECEIVER WANTS 60 PER CENT

Ventura Institution Offers to Pay California Bank Only 15 Per Cent.

D. Edward Collins, former president of the California Bank, appeared in Superior Judge Harris' court this afternoon and testified as to the accounts of the Bank of Ventura, which is indebted to the California Bank.

Collins gave his testimony in the hearing of the application of James P. Edoff, receiver of the California Bank, for recommendation from the court as to what procedure he should take in the settling of the accounts of the California Bank and the Bank of Ventura.

An agreement was reached some time ago between the directors of the California Bank and the Bank of Ventura by which the California Bank was to take as security for payment of the debt owed it by the Bank of Ventura 301 shares of the California Bank stock, equity and property at Thirteenth and Webster streets, 5000 shares of the California Bank stock, and some ranch property. The Ventura bank is indebted to the California Bank to the sum of $171,241.

Edoff claims that if this agreement would be followed out only about 15 per cent would be realized by the depositors of the California Bank. He wants the agreement set aside, and the indebtedness settled in some other manner so that about sixty per cent can be realized out of it. He is interested for the California Bank's depositors. Bank Commissioners Lynch and Root were also present in court.

Prince Helie, the Suitor of Anna Gould, Greets Her on Arrival at Port of Naples.

NAPLES, April 24.—Madame Anna Gould arrived here today from New York on board the steamer Friedrich der Grosse and was met in the harbor by Prince de Sagan, who arrived in England a few days ago, and hurried hither to welcome Mme. Gould. The steamer came into the harbor at 6 o'clock this morning and the prince was one of the first to go on board. He rushed to Mme. Gould's cabin, met her at the door, lifted his hat and kissed her hand. The prince refused to be interviewed or make any statement. The tutor of Mme. Gould's children, however, in a brief interview said:

"Rest assured that the marriage will occur but nobody can say when or where. My conviction rests on what I have seen and heard from Madame Gould. I am sure it is a true love match."

Madame Gould was smiling and apparently contented. After the prince had kissed her hand she took him to the saloon reserved for ladies, where they conversed for half an hour.

Madame Gould then took the prince to her cabin where he met the children. He kissed them repeatedly.

WORK ON CHURCH ENDED BY COURT

Superior Judge Harris this afternoon issued an order restraining the trustees of the St. John's Presbyterian Church from erecting a church building on College avenue near Ashby in Berkeley. The order was given at the instance of L. Olsen, a property owner in that vicinity, who claims that in the deeds to all the property in that section it is provided that no residence shall be erected and that no residence or building shall be within twenty-five feet of the sidewalk. Olsen claims the trustees are operating in direct violation of these provisions by building a church in the tract and erecting it within twenty-five feet of the sidewalk.

ASTOR AGAIN DISPLAYS SCORN FOR AMERICANS

Presents Flag of Chesapeake to British Nation.

LONDON, April 24.—William Waldorf Astor, the self-ex-patriated citizen of the United States, never loses an opportunity of showing his scorn for everything connected with his birth-land, save its dollars, and in demonstrating an opposite and overweening love for England, his adopted country. Today the English press pays tribute to his patriotism and munificence in presenting to the Royal United Service Museum in Whitehall, which really means the British nation, the flag of the Chesapeake, captured by the British ship Shannon in the memorable night of June 13, 1813, when Lawrence uttered the undying words: "Don't give up the ship!"

FERRY-BOAT COLLIDES WITH SMALL SCHOONER

The ferryboat Oakland of the South-Pacific line, outbound from the ferry building on the 12:15 o'clock trip this morning, struck the bow of a little schooner as the boat was crossing its path, with a crash that resounded over the waters and shook the ferry from stem to stern. A jagged hole was torn in the port bow of the Oakland just above the water line. Passengers on board screamed and grabbed life preservers and a small panic ensued. The officers and crew quickly came forward, however, assuring the people that there was no danger and that the Oakland was not in peril of sinking, and with aid of calmer spirits among the passengers induced the panic stricken to quiet themselves. After lying to for three or four minutes the Oakland proceeded on her way to the slip across the bay.

Whether the schooner was severely injured or put in danger of foundering those on the ferry could not tell. In the pitchy darkness of the night only its dim outlines could be made out. Evidently the bow-sprit was torn away, and the forwardmast, as clearly as could be made out, was shattered by the impact. In the hope of being of assistance the Oakland was held up several minutes, but no hail came from the small boat and it appeared to be riding safely, so the order was given to go ahead.

DALTON TELLS BUTCHERS FACTS ON CONSOLIDATION*Points Out the Many Benefits to Result

County Assessor Henry P. Dalton addressed a meeting of the Butchers' Exchange last evening on the subject of consolidation. The organization has taken a great deal of interest in the movement and decided last evening to obtain some first hand facts and figures from Dalton. In part the speaker said: "It gives me pleasure to appear before you tonight and talk to you about a consolidated city and county government, for the cities on this side of the bay. I have been of the opinion for some time, that a consolidated city and county government is the most important question that is now before the people owning property on this side of the bay."

"It is important, because it means so much for the future of this section. It is a question that the people should have a chance to express themselves on, at the ballot box in the very near future. To get the most economical government, I am of the opinion that the territory bounded on the north by the Contra Costa line, on the south and west by the bay of San Francisco, should be under a city and county government. The cities of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Emeryville, Piedmont and the adjoining territory are so closely united that it is impossible to tell where the boundaries of one begin and the other leaves off. Being so closely united that which interests and benefits one city naturally must interest and benefit the others."

Unity Is Strength. "In order to have a great and prosperous city we must unite—for 'in unity there is strength'—and encourage industries of all kinds, particularly manufacturing. To do this we must make our section attractive to time, space, better police protection, better fire protection, better sewers and a harbor and wharves that would promote commerce with all parts of the world."

Reduce Rate to $1.70. "In conclusion let me say that I think there is only one thing for us to do on this side of the bay, and that is to consolidate and reduce our rate to $1.70 on the $100 valuation and thereby save $1,291,000 in taxes each year and at the same time have a better police, better fire protection, better sewers and a harbor and wharves that would promote commerce with all parts of the world."

Local Wrestler Wins From Portland Man; Other Contests. In a telegram sent to President Walter B. Faucett of the Reliance Club today, Chester M. Johnson, wrestling instructor of the club, stated that a try-out was held last night at Portland between the Multnomah amateur athletic club and the representatives of the Reliance Club from this city. In the contest Brownell, the Reliance Club wrestler, defeated Smith of the Multnomah club. Anjos, the Reliance middleweight wrestler, was defeated by Johnson of Seattle, and Stokes, the middleweight boxer of the Reliance Club, was defeated by Sax of Portland.

Berkeley Assessment. "To prove this I submit the following figures: Oakland is assessed for State and county purposes for $38,000,415, with a tax rate of 1.44 on the $100 valuation. Oakland contributes $413,880 to the State and $921,225 to the county, making a total of $1,335,105."

Alameda Assessment. "With an assessed value of $23,007,835 and a tax rate of $1.48 on the $100 the tax payers of Berkeley contribute to the State $332,020, and to the county $395,043, making a total of $727,063. To this amount add $278,125 which they contribute to the city government. Berkeley is assessed at $27,812,450 and has an average tax rate of $1.48 on the $100 valuation. For the support of the State, county and city government they pay an average rate of $2.48 on the $100 valuation, or $719,000. Of this $719,000 $413,880 is contributed to the county benefits Berkeley very little."

Township Benefited. "So you see if we had a consolidated city and county government the citizens of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda would be saved the amounts they now contribute to the county government. In the same way there would be a saving to the taxpayers of Emeryville and Piedmont. The people of Berkeley and Oakland would receive the benefits of a city government without increasing their burden of taxation."

Great Amount Saved. "In 1907 under our present form of government the taxpayers paid $1,013,235 for the support of the State, county and cities. Under a consolidated city and county government as above estimated there would have been saved the difference between $4,013,233 and $2,622,175, or $1,391,058. This saving is estimated on a tax rate of $1.70 for a consolidated city and county government. Compare this rate of $1.70 with the present rate of $2.69 for Oakland, $2.48 for Berkeley and $2.65 for Alameda. For Emeryville, $1.94 for Piedmont. For State and county only, Brooklyn township and Oakland township are now paying $1.85."

Antient High Assessments. "It has been said by many that a high assessment would be an advantage, because of having a low tax rate. This is not true and to prove it to you I want to call your attention to the assessment of Alameda county in 1856. The total assessed value of all the property in 1856 for State and county purposes was $55,632, with a State rate of 55 cents on the $100 valuation. An inside State and county rate of $1.25 on the $100 valuation, an outside rate of $1.25 on the $100 valuation. On this assessed valuation and rate the taxpayers paid for State and county purposes $692,188.44. Eleven years later the assessed value of the county was increased to $82,948,726, on which a State rate of 51 cents on the $100 valuation was levied. A State and county rate of $1.13 on inside property was collected and $1.50 on the $100 valuation on outside property, making a total of $2,090,760.30. From 1856 to 1867 the assessed value of the county was increased from $55,632,632 to $82,948,726, and the rate from $1 to $1.13 on inside property and from $1 to $1.50 on outside property, thereby compelling the taxpayers to pay $418,571.86 more for the support of the State and county government in 1867 than they did in 1856. From 1867 to 1907 the assessed value of the county was increased from $82,948,726 to $176,817,593 and the rate of taxation was increased from $1.13 to $1.38 on inside property and from $1.50 to $1.73 on outside property, thereby causing the taxpayers to contribute $1,591,977.68 more for the support of the State and county than they did in the year 1867, and $2,000,449.54 more than they paid in 1856. You can see that the higher the assessed value of the county the higher the rate of taxation becomes and the more the taxpayers are called on to pay."

The body was attired in a dark coat and vest, dark striped trousers, black low cut shoes, tan hose, and a soft tan colored shirt. The body is compactly built, of medium height, weighs close to 200 pounds and appears to be that of a person about 35 years of age. The hair is dark and the face, badly disfigured, and appears to have been smooth shaven. No external marks of violence were observed on the body. The remains were moved to the local morgue, where on inquest will be held next Thursday morning at 9 o'clock.

ALL OFFICERS READY TO OPEN CARNIVAL Representation of ships of the United States navy, England, Russia, France, Japan, Spain and Germany are grouped about the "California" in Wendell hall of the Unitarian Church awaiting the ceremonies that will open the naval carnival which has been arranged for this evening and Saturday afternoon and evening by the associated societies of the church including the Woman's Alliance, Star King Fraternity and Unity Club. Each ship has its full complement of officers who will do the honors aboard the vessels. Special displays emblematic of the nation have been planned as attractions to the visitors.

DEMURS TO BREACH OF PROMISE SUIT Lambert Van Laak, retired San Francisco merchant, has filed a demurrer to the suit of Mrs. Lydia E. Allen of Alameda, in which she sues for $25,000 for breach of promise. Van Laak, who is 75 years of age, contends in his demurrer that the complaint in the suit does not state a cause for action.

THE BONDMAN. "The Bondman," a dramatization of which will be Wilton Lackaye's medium for his week's engagement in the Macdonough Theater, commencing April 27, was printed in this country as long ago as 1883, four years previously to the passage of the present Federal copyright laws governing plays and novels, so that it has been for twenty years public property. Lackaye's own play from the book, "The Bondman" in 1892. It was produced in Philadelphia late that year and failed. The late Joseph Arthur, author of "Blue Jeans," also dramatized Lackaye's book, but his version was discarded after it had been put into rehearsal.

Many newspapers "blow" about their circulation, but they fail to bring the advertiser returns, which always results from big circulations.

10,000 inches more of ads (not legal) appeared in this paper than any other evening paper on the Coast during March. This is proof of returns to the advertiser.

Fifth Regiment Infantry Band
Leader Resents Slur on the Organization.

George W. Hollister, band master

onal guard of California, has sent the following letter to James D. Phelan:

San Francisco, April 24.—1908.

Dear Mr. Phelan,

Mutual Savings Bank Building, City.—

Dear Sir The injustice done to this organization by the publication of an alleged interview with you in yesterday's call I cannot allow to pass without notice and I desire to call your attention to errors therein with the hope that you are in a position to acknowledge your errors when they are called to your attention,

The Fifth Regiment infantry band, N. C., has never offered to furnish 44 men for $50—their offer was made to Mr. Hutson and was, "If the park commissioners after the first four weeks' concert, which should be free, were satisfied of their worth and wanted to engage them, they, the band, would volunteer."

more money among their friends on the outside to justify them in giving concerts for one year, and were sure they could do so, if the park commissioners would do their share by donating $50, the same as for 34 men, not 44. On the same basis as per your article Cassasa is now receiving from the park commissioners 10, or 33 1-3 cents per man, or as Steinbriff actually played for months for $1.40 per man. Which is the cheaper and tending to lower wages?

The application of this band was not suggested by the citizens' alliance nor by any other set of men whatever, but was done by me personally after several missioners could not raise sufficient funds for concerts and so stated in the press, and my first communication was initially ignored by them. The same as my et reception was ignored, and at no time since have we had the assistance of any organization until you roused the publicity your statement that "we to play it would cause industrial strife." You state, "They play publicly about once a year, to-wit: at encampments." Are you not aware that during the past three years we have given public concerts in the park in Oakland, which was paid for by the merchants of that city, playing each week for six successive months and for the same months for two years last past once each week in Alameda, and for the same months for the same reason last summer in Berkeley? A little question on these matters would not leave you in such a ridiculous position, one where all informed persons know that you are not in possession of the information as in the possession of the chairman of your committee, Hon. W. H. Metson.

You say, "The park band are professional musicians, and I am not." Are you aware that members of the park band are on the regular police force of this city, drawing salary from the city and playing for the city? Are you aware that there are in the tax collector's office of this city, others in the employ of the Pacific states telephone and telegraph company, and others in the employ of the city of San Francisco, who are musicians?

What is the difference there is there? If you do not know these things why do you make such statements?

standard of professionalism? Several of the men from our band joined the so-called musicians' union in the year last passed and played in the park with the regular band every Sunday following the collection. Did their joining this so-called union constitute them professionals, and did it add anything to their artistic or musical qualities in any manner? They were far from being our equals and we considered them very little loss.

I do not with pleasure that you have at last declared your stand, so we may hereafter know where to find you; also that you are able to speak for his honor the president of the union, and that the gentlemen "that the supervisors would not likely have donated $75 for any other than a union band," was this information derived, or are you in a position to know the facts? I am sure that for a this question did not and could not have been considered by them, as what they done was done before we had been heard of in the matter. Can it be possible that they as well as the mayor are so ignorant?

When we have second Schmitz-Ruef administration, which might very properly be called a Taylor-Phelan administration, do not believe such a condition exists, but from your open letter one would be easily warranted in drawing such a conclusion. Indeed, you have been misquoted and that you may be man enough to acknowledge such is the fact, or that you were in error in making the statements herein outlined, either in ignorance of the facts or otherwise. Yours respectfully,

 GEORGE W. HOLLISTER, and Master Fifth Regiment Infantry,
 N. G. C.

GAS ON THE STOMACH

OFTEN THE CAUSE OF GREAT BODILY DISTRESS.

It indicates a feeble stomach in which the food lies undigested and shows need of tonic treatment.

When the stomach is feeble the food lies in it undigested, decays and throws off poisonous gases that distend the walls of the stomach and cause interference with other organs, especially with the action of the heart and lungs. These gases have other ill effects. They are absorbed by the blood and corrupt it and so cause aches in remote parts of the body and the formation of unhealthy tissue everywhere. General bodily weakness and loss of weight result. The nerves and the brain are disturbed and discomforts such as dizziness, hot flashes, sleeplessness, irritability and despondency originate from this source.

Experience shows that these troubles vanish just as soon as the stomach is made strong enough to digest the food. In other words it needs a tonic that will rouse it to do the work of changing the food into nourishment. The tonic used ought to be one that will agree with the most delicate stomach.

Mrs. Amelia Gwin, a nurse by occupation lives at 3139 Vernon avenue, Chicago, Ill. She said recently:

"When I was living in Terre Haute, Ind., some years ago I was in bad health for some months and did not know what ailed me. Only that I did not feel like myself. My doctor said I was suffering with indigestion, but he did not cure me."

"I had severe pains in the stomach and could not digest any solid food. I had to diet all of the time and had so much gas on the stomach that it seemed at times as though my breath was leaving me. I was greatly run down in health and lost in weight."

"I decided one day to drop the doctor's medicine and take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The first few boxes helped me and I took them until cured. I gained in weight, my digestion became good and I have been in splendid health since."

"I am glad to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as they are worth their weight in gold."

The remedy which gave Mrs. Gwin complete health can be obtained at any drug store or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents per box, six boxes for $2.50. Every dyspeptic should read "What to Eat and How to Eat." Write for a free copy today.

REFUSES TO MOVE FROM CHICAGO HOTEL

Management Tries to Get Rid of Notorious Woman.

CHICAGO, April 24.—Mrs. Dora McDonald, wife of the late Michael J. McDonald, and defendant in the Webster Guerin case is registered at a downtown hotel and proposes to be a guest there for some time to come.

"I won't get out. You may raise the rent as high as you please. I shall stay right here as long as I desire." This was Mrs. McDonald's final reply to the management last night. Her recent notoriety was given as the reason for objecting to her staying there. It was said that last Tuesday a man appeared at the hotel and engaged a room for Mrs. McDonald. Chicago, whose family is out of the city and who will remain for several weeks.

Later it was discovered who Mrs. McDonald was. Notes followed on the telephone. Mrs. McDonald did not pay any attention to them. Finally she was found but represented herself as well satisfied with her apartment and added that she would be there for some time.

NAMES RECEIVER FOR STOCK FIRM

CHICAGO, April 24.—Judge S. H. Bethea in the Federal court today appointed Edwin C. Clark receiver for the affairs of the concern of Wallace C. Hopkins & Company, brokers and dealers in mining stocks.

F. A. Harper who has been acting as attorney for Hopkins, said that his billies amount not less than $200,000. He said he did not know the whereabouts of Hopkins and that he believed he had left the city. One of the petitioners, W. C. Clark, charged that Hopkins was having diverted $800,000 given him to invest in board of trade transactions to the promotion of sales of stock of the Consolidated Zinc Company, a merger of mines in Wisconsin and Missouri. The Consolidated Zinc Company stock has been sold, and Clark charged that the advertisement and literature are declared by Postoffice Inspector Stuart to be highly colored and to show fraud.

WIFE OF CLUBMAN GRANTED DIVORCE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 24.—Mrs. Mabel V. Starr was granted a divorce from her husband Sidney L. M. Starr, a popular clubman of San Francisco, by Judge Lennon yesterday at San Rafael on the grounds of extreme cruelty.

A peculiar feature of the case is that Mrs. Starr is one of three inseparable beauties each of whom began suit for divorce within a few days of one another. The others are Mrs. Harry Blood of Alameda and Mrs. Lee Blasingame of Oakland who are both striving to secure release from the bonds of matrimony. They have been constant friends since girlhood, have always attended the same social functions, were married in the same year and if Mrs. Blood and Mrs. Blasingame are as successful as Mrs. Starr was yesterday will all secure divorces in the same season.
